THE ST. LOUIS CONVENTION.

Present Outlook for Candidates.

Temporary Organization and To-day's Work.

The Woman's Rights People are Heard and Then an Adjournment Till 5 O'clock.

Special to the Star.

Sr. Louis, June 27 .- Two theories re urged regarding the course of the Ohio delegation. John G. Thompson and others of Thurman's friends say these points were conceded to the soft money men on an understanding that Ohio shall go solid for Thurman, when-stances, but are far from satisfactory. The system of admission and the provisions for the comfort and convenience of members and the facilitation of the business of the Convention, are not in any particular equal to those enjoyed at Cincinnati. The Convention is composed of 788 members, casting 869 votes; necessary to a choice, 246. On the stage are Hon. Augustus Schell, Chairman of the National Executive Committee, and members; Mr. Henry Waterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who is to preside as Temporary Chairman; and F.O. Prince, of Massachusetts, J.O. Walker, of Iowa, and L. Donovan, of Onio, selected for

By American Press Association to the STAR.

Sr. Louis, June 27 .- Lively work on the home stretch was done last night and this morning, but no one can give an opinion worth a cent as to what the final result will be. The excitement exceeds that of yesterday. The crowd gathers strength every hour. Every train and boat brings its complement of enthusiastic spectators, and this morning the strests are thronged with noisy patriots, who cheer lustily for their respective favorities. Bands of music are parading the streets. Every hotel of prominence is surrounded by large con-strength, though the Tammany men claim he is not in so good a position as Blaine was at Cincinnati, especially when the two-third rule is considered and which they say will not be abrogated. Some of the most outspoken say if it is abrogated, and if Tilden be de-clared nominated by a mere majority that portions of several delegations will white the converted delegations will white the form the Convention.

August Belmout is exerting the greatest influence against Tilden. To-day he declared in the most positive manner that the nomination of Tilden would be a death blow to the Democratic party This declaration is being widely circu-lated, and is having its effect. Tilden's backers, however, are still very confident, and claim that he is gaining strength all the time, some of them offering to bet that he will be nominated be ore the fourth ballot.

The triumph of the soft-money men in the Onto de egation raised Allen stock considerably. He is more talked of as the coming man now than ever before.

Hendricas' friends are enthusiastic and active. Their leaders claim that he is the only man that can carry Indiana in October; consequently he must and will be nominated.

Sr. Louis, June 27 .- At a quarter past 12 o'clock, Augustus Schell, of New York, called the Convention to order, and in a brief speech said the ticket presented should be one that would embody the idea of administration reform; that was what the people desired; that was the question. He bicleved the people would not again pisce in power near who had violated their mark its recurrence by some public replaces and brought about such disgrace-pisces and brought about such disgraceful state of affairs.

Another overwhelming question was that of the currency. The Democratic party has always been a hard money
one, and consequently an honest party.

The Republican party had brought upon the country the present hard times by their reckless management of the fluances. The Democratic party should be in favor of that policy that would bring better times.

Mr. Schell closed by presenting Mr.
Henry W. Watterson, of Kentucky, as the choice of the National Convention
for Temperary Chairman.

Millious and devout thanksgiving to Atmight the provided for the biessiogs which have been bestowed upon us as a nation
during the century of our entire the century of and of His protection.

Messrs. Ransom, of North Carolina, and Barnum, of Connecticut, were appointed a committee to conduct Mr. Watterson to the chair.

Mr. Watterson was received with cheers. He said the mission of this Convention was to decide by its wisdom whether honesty should be restored to the Government, or by its folly to keep the people in the same old rut of partisan bitterness, under which rogues stole and honest people were robbed. Mr. Watterson continued at length, closing amid cheers.

On the other hand, it is understood that Ewing is at work to effect a combination with Pennsylvania to make the ticket Hancock and Ewing. It is even said that Ewing's friends have urged the disaffected New Yorkers to unite on Hancock promising that in such a contingency Ohio would go with them. There is a growing belief in the Ohio delegation that Ewing is figuring for self at a pretty lively rate.

St. Louis, June 27.—There is considerable excitement during the seating of delegates, and it takes a great while to get the Convention ready for work. This morning about half-past 2 o'clock the driver of Brunswick, Balke & Co.'s wagon, who lives with his family over the Company's stable, which fronts on the Company's stable, which fronts on Ferguson alley, in rear of Main street, between Eighth and Ninth, was sitting in the window to catch a breath of air. While there he saw a large man in his shirt-sleeves cautiously enter the alley not far from his position and deposit a bundle near a pile of boards close by. He thought nothing of this, and would have forgotten all about the circumstance had not Officers Husman and Costello, of the Hammond-street District, passed through the alley soon after when they ran across this "bundle," which upon examination proved to be a well-dressed boy-baby not more than two hours old.

An Army Punishment Revived. Frank. Storey and Annie McStern have been living as man and wife in the basement of a frame house on the Warsaw Pike, near the Price's Hill Inclined Plane. Their furniture consists of two old trunks, and a plie of straw in lieu of a bed in one corner. They have had liv-ing with them a bright little ten-year-old bay named Georgie Kean, the son of Mrs. McStern. Yesterday evening Offi-cer Dinsmore, on complaint of the neign-bors, arrested the man and woman for inhuman cruelty to the boy. The woman
